

Fickling Forceps Angled Toothed

Description

Fickling Forceps Angled Toothed 15cm with ratchet locking mechanism. Used to grasp teeth and roots during minor oral surgical procedures with 1x2 teeth and serrated jaws. These large strong forceps are also ideal for holding bone block during shaping and fixation. Manufactured from Japanese stainless steel.